

MULTIDISCIPLINARY PROGRAM

Inequality and Social Policy

JAMES M. and CATHLEEN D. STONE PhD SCHOLARS

ELIGIBILITY

Open to Harvard PhD students in the social sciences who will be entering their G-2 or G-3 year in September 2020.

The Multidisciplinary Program in Inequality & Social Policy is designed for Harvard PhD students in economics, education, government, health policy, political economy and government, psychology, public policy, sociology, and social policy. The curriculum predominantly draws on the fields of economics, political science, sociology, and social policy. Students from other Harvard doctoral programs with a related social science background are welcome to apply.

FELLOWSHIP SELECTION

Be sure to obtain the companion Inequality & Social Policy brochure from our website, which provides important information about the Stone and Wiener PhD Scholar fellowships and terms of participation.

A distinctive emphasis of the Inequality & Social Policy program is to spur new research on income and wealth concentration at the top of the distribution. Half of the Stone PhD Scholar fellowships are specifically designated for students who will work on some aspect of these topics.

Applicants will be automatically considered in turn for each of the different fellowships.

APPLICATION COMPONENTS

1. Application form (3 pages)
2. Research statement (1000-1200 words)
3. Curriculum vitae (2 pages)
4. Unofficial transcript
Download as pdf from the grades tab of MyHarvard
5. Two faculty letters of recommendation
May be emailed directly to pamela\_metz@harvard.edu

APPLICATION SUBMISSION

Students may submit their portion of the application by email to pamela\_metz@harvard.edu

Please submit items 1-4 (in this order), if possible, as a single collated pdf, using your last name as the file name.

Please submit the two recommendation waiver forms as separate attachments.

Pamela Metz will confirm receipt within 48 hours and follow up with recommenders if letters are missing.

APPLICATION DEADLINE

Friday, July 3, 2020 (6 PM)

THE JAMES M. AND CATHLEEN D. STONE PhD SCHOLARS
IN INEQUALITY AND WEALTH CONCENTRATION

THE MALCOLM HEWITT WIENER PhD SCHOLARS
IN POVERTY AND JUSTICE

APPLICATION

2020-2021